Crime panel does itself justice

RE-OFFENDING has been slashed in Bridport little more than a year into a scheme which forces criminals to confront their victims.

Incidents of anti-social behaviour and low-level crime have also fallen by up to a quarter following the launch of Community Justice Panels (CJP) in the town.

The scheme drives criminals to come face-to-face with their victims in controlled meetings overseen by trained facilitators. Victims of anti-social behaviour, criminal damage, less serious assault and theft have gained closure on often very disturbing and frightening events during 20 face-to-face sessions in the town.

The pilot phase began in November 2010 with the first case referrals starting shortly afterwards.

It was launched after Councillor Dave Rickard, Bridport Police's Safer Neighbourhood Team Sergeant Jon Bleasdale and Beat Officer PC Scott McGregor visited the CJP team in Chard, Somerset to learn about the scheme.

Local authorities in Dorchester and Sherborne are currently looking to Bridport for guidance as they look to launch similar schemes.

Sergeant Bleasdale said he was in no doubt of the success of the scheme.

He said: "I have always felt that more could be done for victims than has been the case in the past, and this process does precisely that with exceptionally high levels of victim satisfaction expressed.

"I have no doubt that the CJP process has contributed towards an impressive decline in crime and anti-social behaviour in Bridport over the past year."

He added: "It is my hope that CJPs will continue to develop by taking on more cases and becoming an integral part of the way in which victims and wrong-doers are dealt with."

The aim of the scheme is to restore confidence and to empower members of the community who have been affected by crime, said PC McGregor.

He said: "This process works by bringing the

SUE Hennessy is most certainly a woman with "Hidden Depths".

After a varied and interesting career in the public and voluntary sectors, on reaching retirement she realised a long held ambition to write a book about the women of the RNLI.

The book came as a result of her many years of experience working for the RNLI in various guises. It is a fascinating account of the many significant roles that women have played in the organisation since its beginnings back in the early 1800s.

Sue, who is 62-years-old and lives in the Piddle Valley, also has a huge range of other interests and she still holds plenty of ambitions.

■ HAVE you always lived in Dorset?

No, but I always wanted to live here right from being a little girl. I was brought up in Kent but my family had friends in Charminster and we would come down for holidays. I first came down here to live in 1971 to be a Geography teacher in Gillingham. I then taught in Shaftesbury for a while before moving up north. I eventually came back to Dorset in 1996.

■ HOW did you get from teaching to working for the RNLI?

After some years as a teacher I went off to do a masters degree. I didn't go back to teaching because I joined the voluntary sector working as an Education Advisor for The Spastics Society, which is now known as Scope. Then, for a while, I had my own business running a delicatessen in Merseyside. I then went back to work for Scope as an Early Years Development manager, which was working to provide services for children aged under five with cerebral palsy. I moved to the RNLI as a result of redundancy from Scope.

■ WHAT attracted you to the RNLI job?

I was very keen to be careful about making my next job move, by then I was about 40. I'd learned that I really liked working in 'cause' related areas; something I believe in that I can really throw myself into. One morning I spotted an advert in the paper for the RNLI and that was the magical moment because my great grandfather had been an RNLI coxswain. He'd been highly esteemed and had even been awarded a medal by Queen Victoria for his bravery.

■ WHAT were your various roles within the RNLI?

To begin with, I got a post managing volunteers in North West England. I spent five years doing that and then I moved down to RNLI HQ in Poole working with major donors to the RNLI; the individuals who give large sums of money. My third job with the RNLI was working as the founder principal of the new training college at Poole HQ. That's where volunteer lifeguards, crew members and fundraisers go to be trained. I worked with the architects and the design team in creating the place and then I ran it for four years before I retired.

■ WHAT do you think your great grandfather would say about what you've done for the RNLI?

Well, I think we'd have a very interesting conversation. He was all about the courage and leadership in a very primitive sort of lifeboat, and here I was 100-years later managing volunteers, raising money and training the crews amidst all the hi-tech wizardry we have these days – the contrast is huge. And yet, I just love the fact that there's a continuum between us.

■ WHEN did the idea for writing a book come along?

That was a long held wish which I wasn't able to realise until after I retired. When I joined RNLI I was bowled over by the calibre of the women I was meeting. I looked to see if anything had been written about the contribution that women had made from the early 1800s and there was nothing. So I put it as number one on my retirement list of 'Things To Do'. As soon as I retired I found a publisher and researched and wrote the book, which is all about documenting the contribution that women in the organisation have made to saving life at sea; from launching boats, crewing boats, raising money, supporting the men folk and bringing it right up to date by looking at what women are now doing in senior management roles. It's called 'Hidden Depths - Women in the RNLI'.

New centre showcases renewable energy

A £4 MILLION hub for renewable energy has opened in a specially built centre in Bridport.

The Core - Renewable Energy Centre aims to raise public awareness by being a one stop shop for all sustainable technology options available on the market. The centre was the dream of Lucy Chant who was inspired by the eco-friendly fittings added to a house she saw being built.

by Paul Crompton
paul@pemedi.co.uk

The opening was the culmination of three year's hard work by Mrs Chant and her husband Ashley, who are both directors at AP Chant renewable energy.

The building on Gore Cross Business Park was opened by Oliver Letwin MP on April 20th.

Mrs Chant said: "We want to show case renewable energy and so here you can see how the different systems work."

"The idea is people can touch and feel and experience renewable energy rather than just see pictures of it."

"It's about raising public awareness of renewable energy, because people are changing from oil and gas to use alternative forms and so we hoping to change peoples' perceptions of how they get energy."

"We are really delighted and excited about the new venture and believe in it, so come and see it even if you are not interested in renewable energy and we will get you interested."

She added: "Years ago when we did a house installation with renewable energy technology with everything that's here at the centre."

"So that's maybe where my interest started when I saw the workmen dig and drill the bore holes which went about 150 metres deep. I used to watch them and I was interested in how all the technology worked."

Mrs Chant said she was keen to get school children to visit the centre as part of its ethos of education.

The Business Conference Centre also boasts rooms upstairs equipped with state of the art facilities for meetings.

Mr Chant, the managing director of the company, said: "It's taken a long time and we've put so much into it."

"This is about creating jobs and improving the profile of Bridport, we've got a great town here and this centre is somewhere people will talk about."

He added: "It would be great to get schools and local businesses to visit the centre just to explain the advantages of renewable technology and that's the best way forward."

Storms bring down 80 foot tree

AN iconic 80-foot tree which pre-dated Queen Victoria was brought crashing down by the storms which battered Bridport this week.

Affectionately known as the 'Grandfather tree' the plant had stood on Allington Hill for more than 200 years. But high winds blew the tree down overnight on Wednesday, April 23rd.

The lime tree was the oldest on the hill and is believed to date back to the early 1800s. The tree was one of two which had graced the north side of the hill - the other was known as the 'Grandmother tree'.

A dog walker who discovered the tree the next morning contacted the Allington Hill Volunteer group which cares for the area. The group was preparing to conduct a project documenting the wildlife around the tree at the popular beauty spot.

Cathy Harvey, co-ordinator with the Allington Hill Volunteer group, said locals still remembered the two trees with great affection, as many happy hours were spent playing and climbing in them.

She said: "It fell last Wednesday in the middle of the night. It is a sad lost."

"I've been told its been called the Grandfather tree for many years and people can remember playing in it 30 years ago on rope swings and all sorts of things and it became a very popular tree. By the size of the trunk it's at least 200 years old if not more. It's been an iconic tree for many years. Before the Woodland Trust there were very few trees on Allington Hill. Most of the woodland has been there less than 30 years, so that's why it's always been so well loved in the local community."

Mrs Harvey was due to start a project based on the tree in three weeks time. She will now document the changes to the habitat on and around the four-foot high stump which remains.

But some hope remains the iconic tree will one day grow back to its full stature.

Mrs Harvey said: "We were lucky it didn't pull the roots out of the soil. I spoke to a Woodlands Trust man and he feels that because the trunk is still in the ground and there's some growth below there's no reason why it won't re-grow."

Many of the older trees on the hill are protected by a preservation order, but they have no protection from the storms witnessed this week.

The tree will now be left where it fell, to provide a natural habitat for the wildlife on the hill.

MEP to give talk

SOUTH West MEP Trevor Colman will be visiting Bridport to give an "eye opening" talk on the implications of staying in the European Union.

Mr Colman will be guest of honour at a meeting in the Bull Hotel on May 16th.

The meeting was arranged by a group of eurosceptics to give people in the town the opportunity to hear about the workings of the European Union (EU).

This will be the first meeting of this stature the unnamed group has organised.

Although Mr Colman is a member of the United Kingdom Independence Party, the meeting will be non-party political.

Those attending will also be able to quiz the former senior police officer on EU matters.

Group member Joan Bolton said she hoped the talk would answer a lot of questions residents had about the country's role in the EU.

She said: "This meeting was organised because a lot of people are concerned about the EU, which seems to be quite a topic at the moment."

"People are concerned about the state of the country and how it ties up with the EU."

"So we felt we had to invite Trevor Colman to the meeting so he could tell the people of Bridport something about his experiences and what is going on."

"Anyone who comes will have a chance to discuss whether it is better to have the EU and find out what's happening in Brussels."

"If the information is as groundbreaking as I think it will be, then we will find out what we are in the EU for and why we don't come out of it."

The former foreign language teacher added: "The meeting is not to change people's minds, it's to get the facts."

Mr Colman left school at 15-years-old before embarking on a career as a police officer in Devon in 1962. He retired from the force 33 years later at the rank of superintendent after serving most of his time in the CID.

Since retiring he has written fiction and non-fiction books and been an advisor on the television police drama Wycliffe.

He became involved with UKIP in 1999 and became a MEP in 2008.

Mr Colman said: "The talk will be a potted history of the last 40 years of the EU and what is happening now."

"The EU is starting to implode and we are now reaching the point where the people of Europe have to be consulted on whether they want to give up their right to govern themselves and hand it to unelected members of the EU, which includes us."

He added: "I've been doing these talks for 13 years and people are amazed at what I tell them."

"The lack of knowledge by people is a tribute to the deception and lies of politicians who have hidden most of it from us."

"People who have not been involved before, the talk will be an eye opener and I will try not to get involved in party politics."

"I'm there to give the facts and everything I say is factual, which people can check for themselves afterwards."

For more information on Mr Colman, go to www.th-eu-nit.com

MEP Trevor Colman will be giving a talk at The Bull Hotel later this month

A Sizzling night at the museum

A NIGHT of jazz, food and facts will be held to raise funds for Bridport Museum.

Organisers promise the 'Sizzling Supper' fund-raising evening will be packed with entertainment.

The event will be held at Marsh Barn in West Bay on Friday, May 11th.

Entertainment will be delivered by Bridport's creative writing group 'Story Traders', who will serve a menu of fact, fiction and nostalgia based on research and artefacts from the archives of Bridport Museum.

Accompanying the readings will be Bridport jazz group 'Impromptu' who will weave the period atmosphere from 1855, through the two World Wars to the present day with a medley of music from the period.

A historically-themed buffet will be provided by 'The History Girls' - three ladies with a passion for history and food, who provide catering inspired by historical recipes to raise funds for Bridport Museum.

People are being urged to dress in clothes from the 1920s through to the 1940s, but organisers have said it is not compulsory.

Tickets cost £10 and are available now from the Local History Centre in Gundry Lane.

For more information phone 01308 458703 or email office@bridportmuseum.co.uk

Reunion call for Colfox class of '88

TWO former Colfox School girls are inviting former pupils who joined the Bridport school in September 1988 to a reunion event this September.

Kerry Larcombe and Emily Walker (nee Turner) are organising the reunion at Freshwater Beach Holiday Park on September 22nd, starting at 7:30pm, and want former school colleagues to get in touch with them.

Kerry said: "We are still trying to locate some of our year, and as I know a lot of local people read the View from Bridport, hope that they may see this article; they would have left around May 1993."

In an exclusive report by PAUL CROMPTON, the View From investigates how Bridport police and its partner authorities are combating low-level crime in the town

Community Justice Panels: How they work

POLICE receive a call from a terrified resident at around 7am. Officers rush to a property in Bridport and find a drunken man smashing down an internal door with a fire extinguisher. The 28-year-old is arrested for burglary and criminal damage.

So began one of 20 Community Justice Panel cases to have been dealt with in Bridport since 2010.

This is the story of one offender's journey as he came to confront and accept responsibility for a distressing crime.

Both victim and wrongdoer met during an emotionally charged conference.

The conference ended with the victim accepting a letter of apology and agreeing to allow the perpetrator to conduct repair work on a damaged bench and build more seating in a communal area for other people who were affected.

The victim said: "The incident involving damage to doors and windows caused considerable distress to those affected by the incident."

"However the Community Justice Panel which took place, involving the offender as well as those affected by the incident, was therapeutic for all concerned.

"During the panel hearing, the offender admitted responsibility and made a heart-felt apology, and as part of the outcome volunteered to meet others affected by the incident."

"In addition, some reparation was made by

'I felt that by dealing directly with the victims, my sense of sorrow was heightened'

the offender in the voluntary building and donation of several benches, which have been much appreciated."

The wrongdoer said: "At first I thought that the scheme sounded like the easier option, that was until I entered into it and found myself looking at my victims, trying to explain my actions and listening to how they were impacted by my actions.

"It was a very emotional and sobering experience for me: one that will stay with me."

"If I had gone to court I think I would have looked back on the incident with a sense of regret for getting caught as opposed to a sense of regret for my actions."

"I felt that by dealing directly with the victims, my sense of sorrow and regret was heightened and that their sense of closure and satisfaction was also heightened."

"I think one of the worst things about being a victim of crime is the fear it creates, and hopefully by meeting the victims and talking to them, I (hopefully) took away that fear, because I could explain why I did what I did and apologise in a sincere fashion."

He added: "Whether the program is suitable in other cases is not for me to judge, but in my case it was excellent."

"From a personal selfish point of view, my wider reputation wasn't damaged, and on an emotional level, I wanted to meet and

Bridport's Beat Officer PC Scott McGregor: "Even if the case had been heard in court . . . this would not have allowed either party the chance to speak face-to-face nor have the offender explain why or what led to the original incident and apologise."

apologise, as well as recompense my victims, which I feel I did far more effectively face-to-face than through the courts."

Bridport's Beat Officer PC Scott McGregor said the alternative outcome would not have met the emotional reparation afforded by the CJP.

He said: "If this case had been dealt with under the current criminal justice system guidelines for prosecution, it is likely that the offender may have received a caution or a conditional caution."

"Even if the case had been heard in court and some form of community order or compensation was owed by the offender this would not have allowed either party the chance to speak face-to-face nor have the offender explain why or what led to the original incident and apologise."

"Nor would any payment for compensation have met the emotional or heartfelt reparation the offender was able to express and deliver in this process."

Since the incident and the CJP conference the wrongdoer has not re-offended or come to the attention of the police.

wrongdoer together with the victim in a conference or meeting, which allows the former to see the harm that they have caused and to recognise the consequences of their behaviour.

"Both wrongdoer and victim then agree a course of action to allow the former to make amends for their behaviour."

The partners involved in Bridport's CJP's include the Town Council, Magna and Raglan Housing Associations and West Dorset District Council.

Councillor Rickard said he believed restorative justice like the CJP's would eventually become mainstream.

He said: "I like the model of CJP's and want to see Bridport's pilot scheme rolled out across West Dorset, and perhaps eventually across the whole of Dorset."

"The problem could be though that by taking what is in reality a local solution to a local problem and expanding it to a larger area, you could lose precisely that element of Localism that made it work in the first place."

The figure covers the financial years 2010/11 and 2011/12.

Low-level crime is predominantly criminal damage but it can also impact on other minor crime areas such as minor assaults and theft. The figures are year-on-year:

- Anti-social behaviour has fell 27.3 per cent
- Criminal Damage is down 23.9 per cent
- Assault with less serious injury down 16.5 per cent
- Theft down 18.4 per cent

Town's iconic cafe reopens

BRIDPORT'S iconic Café Royal has reopened after five months' restoration work.

But leaseholder Tony Marraffa claims that spiraling repair costs almost destroyed his dream of rescuing the local landmark.

The diner's 1950s-style makeover cost twice as much as Mr Marraffa bargained for, with the bill rising to almost £20,000.

He said: "When I opened on Saturday I had just £4 left in my pocket – not even enough to put a float in the

■ TONY Marraffa on duty at the relaunch of the Café Royal till. If it had gone on for one more week I don't think I could have opened.

"The cafe's had five decades of papering over cracks, basically. Every time I started a job I seemed to open another can of worms. I had to spend £4000 on the floor alone.

But with custom picking up following the sopping opening-day weather, the 47-year-old chef from Weymouth is hoping to be in the black by June.

He said: "The wet weather put a bit of a dampener on the opening day, but things are picking up now. Word is getting round about the place, and that's the best form of advertising.

"There's also a Facebook page supporting the cafe, and all sorts going on that I didn't know about. The support's been brilliant. It's a bit overwhelming."

Lois, 46, who along with her four-year-old son Nate was one of the first to visit the revamped eatery, described how the cafe has evolved over the years.

She said: "I used to come here when I was a child when it was like the hub of it. It was like Euston station in those days. Coaches would come and drop off, everyone would come in here and then get back on the coach and go off down to Devon or wherever.

"When I saw in the papers that it was closing I panicked a bit because it's just been here for so long, and I just thought it shouldn't go. Bridport needs a good cafe like this. I'm really pleased it's opened again."

Bridport artist Kit Glaisyer, who painted a series of pictures of the evocative building and campaigned for its restoration, was pleased with the new look.

He said: "It's looking brilliant and I'm really chuffed". For Mr Marraffa, the project is far from over.

He said: "This is the bare bones, the very bare basics. The work starts here, there's a lot more work to be done."

Mixed feelings on Chideock

THE Chideock Players had the village hall echoing with laughter when they staged three performances of the farce 'Fairway to Heaven'.

And for Scott Raffle of Maidstone, Kent, knowing the play was being performed evoked mixed feelings.

His wife Diana wrote the play just two years before she died, aged 41.

Mr Raffle said: "Diana found she had a talent for writing about the time she was diagnosed with breast cancer. She wrote a lot of farce, but some more serious plays too, quite a mix.

"It's wonderful that she got to leave such a legacy and that she is still entertaining people with her writing. But it is tinged with sadness.

"I've seen halls filled with people with tears of laughter running down their cheeks watching a play she's written, but for me it is tinged with sadness that she can't be here to see it."

Director Val Cowell was unaware that Mrs Raffle had passed away when she chose the play from an online catalogue.

She said: "I chose it because it was very funny. Even after all the rehearsals and two performances we are still laughing at it."

Val realised that the playwright was

by Chris Denne

no longer alive when she went to offer her a complimentary ticket to the show and was told that the ticket should be offered instead to her widower Scott.

She said: "Scott emailed me saying he couldn't come because it's too far away, but he is really pleased that we are doing it. He said Diane would be thrilled to think we were doing her play."

Val was happy with how the performances had gone.

She said: "The performers have worked very hard. We have been rehearsing since January and I'm really very pleased with them, they've been great."

About 140 people attended the comedy, which revolves around a salesman's attempts to save his job and his marriage after destroying a set of his wife's antique jugs.

Cheer on Air Ambulance cyclists

PEOPLE are being urged to show their support for a charity by greeting cyclists as they arrive in West Bay.

More than 450 riders will roll into the resort for the Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance second annual Coast to Coast (C2C) Cycle Challenge.

The charity is looking for the public to give the cyclists a cheer with the celebrations planned for the West Bay finishing point on May 20th.

Last year around 200 cyclists raised £33,000 in sponsorship for the life-saving charity. The challenge is not designed as a race and involves cycling through some of Dorset and Somerset's most beautiful countryside.

Bill Sivewright, the charity's chief executive officer, said the event helped them raise the £1.4 million a year it costs to keep their helicopter flying.

He said: "We are really excited about this year's event. The fact that we have over 450 entries already is incredible and we would like to thank everyone for their support."

There are two different cycling routes and distances available. A 54-mile cycle and a shorter 11-mile route which begins at Drimpton in Dorset at 2pm. Both finish in West Bay.

Cyclists are expected to arrive at the George Hotel in West Bay from 2.30 pm onwards.

Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance has attended more than 8,700 emergencies since its launch 11 years ago.

More information about the Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance can be found by visiting www.dsairambulance.org.uk or by calling 01823 669604.

Thorners school celebrate the works

THORNERS Primary School in Litton Cheney celebrated the works of one of Britain's best loved novelists by holding a Charles Dickens Day.

Pupils and staff were invited to come to school dressed as their favourite Dickens character where they learned more about the books of the world famous Victorian writer.

It was a chance to explore the characters which populate the stories and understand what makes them such enduring figures in popular culture.

Gangs of chimney sweeps and pick-pockets mingled with the Artful Dodger, Pip, Fagan, Mr Pickwick, Kate Nickleby and Miss Havesham. In another classroom, Scrooge

by Chris Denne
chris.denne@pemedial.co.uk was studying alongside the Christmas ghosts.

Year Three teacher Mrs Marshall, dressed as a Victorian sweep, felt that getting in character helped the novels feel more alive.

She said: "The books really have been brought to life. I have never seen so many Victorian urchins and chimney sweeps in my life."

"I've learned things I never knew about some Dickens novels, so it proves how useful a day like this is."

New chef brings 'God's Kitchen' to West Bay bistro

by Chris Denne
chris.denne@pemedi.co.uk

A TASTE of 'God's Kitchen' has arrived at West Bay courtesy of Ellipse Caffé Bistro's new chef, Giampi Giammanco.

Giampi has lived in the UK for nearly 15 years but hails from Sicily, the Italian Island known as 'God's Kitchen' because of its reputation for great food and wine.

The new chef of the bar / bistro, which adjoins Helmet City on Quayside, believes the secret is to keep food simple, honest and authentic.

He said: "My motto is try to create some simple food. I like just to use the old fashioned way, to create quality dishes with simplicity. Then I give it a twist.

"I am from Sicily, where the lovely sunshine is, all the lovely sea, all the lovely beaches. I grew up with seafood, nice food, nice wine."

Owner/manager Steve Tucker explained why the bistro, which adjoins Helmet City on Quayside, is now offering Italian fare to compliment its range of coffees and snacks.

He said: "I want to bring authentic, quality Italian food to West Bay.

"Not American-Italian or fast-food Italian, but authentic, good quality Italian food using good quality products.

"We want to become the place where you come for Italian food on the coast.

"We've been encouraging the staff to try all the food and they are loving it.

"I keep asking the customers 'how is the food, how are you enjoying it?' and all the plates are coming back cleaned."

The bistro will offer a catch-of-the-day special ensuring fresh fish dishes will be available daily.

As well as adding Mediterranean flavours to the lunchtime menu, the Quayside bistro is also offering an evening menu on Friday and Saturday nights.

Chappell a hit with artists

MICHAEL Chappell, local artist, good friend and supporter of the Bridport Art Society, attracted a record attendance at his demonstration of acrylic painting last Thursday (April 26th).

He started his seascape on acrylic paper primed with gesso and showed how they can be used wet like watercolours or applied with a palette knife to give texture.

As always, Michael stressed the importance of underpainting which will show through the final colour and give depth.

Painting is all about making marks on the paper which portray not only the look of the subject but the emotions behind our view of whatever we are painting.

By painting the sky first and masking it from the rest of the sea and cliffs, Michael showed how it is possible to achieve the effect needed by in some cases blending the colours and, at other times, painting over with another colour.

His use of a toothbrush to flick white paint as spray and reflection onto the sea was a technique which appears simple but produces a light and natural result.

The next demonstration is 'Pastels' by Michael Lawes on Thursday, May 24th at 7:30pm in the St John Ambulance Hall and all members and guests are welcome.

New members are always welcome to join the club, please call the secretary on 01308 423894 for more details.

the Bridport area, call

■ BREAD AND BEER: Leakers' co-owners Caroline Parkins and Jemima Dasent with Palmers' Cleaves Palmer after the two companies joined forces to create a new bread

Tally Ho! It's a new loaf

AN ALE bread has been launched by a Bridport bakers after it teamed up with a brewery in the town.

Leakers Bakery has created a handmade bread with Tally Ho!, an award-winning fine ale brewed by Palmers.

Jemima Dasent, Leakers' co-owner, said they were always looking to source interesting local ingredients to use in their breads.

She said: "With Tally Ho! Palmers have created good rich strong beer and we knew the wonderful flavour would shine through.

"We've combined it with rye and white flour from Stoates Cann Mill, Shaftesbury, to create a loaf that will appeal to fans of real ale and real bread. There is a long history of brewers and bakers working side by side, because we both use yeast."

The loaf is now available to try and buy at Leakers and will be sampled every day during Bridport Food Festival.

Hetty on a cake baking mission

□ HETTY EARWICKER: Hetty with some of her home-baked cakes

A CHIDEOCK schoolgirl is hoping to raise more than just cakes when she sets out her stall this bank holiday weekend.

Ten-year-old Hetty Earwicker hopes to raise cash for the MS Society by selling her own freshly-baked cakes, cookies and treats at a stall outside the village's Londs store.

She is taking part in the charity's 'Cake Break' scheme to raise money for people affected by multiple sclerosis.

Hetty said: "I really like baking, and raising money is good fun, so when I saw the advert for the Cake Break in a magazine, I decided to sign up."

She can be found at her stall on Saturday, May 5th from 10am and mum Sarah hopes not just cake-lovers will visit to donate.

She said: "Hetty would also welcome donations to the MS Society even if you're on a diet or can't eat cakes."

A SURPRISE package left bookworms at a Bridport club having to tackle an unexpected problem as they celebrated World Book Day.

Members of the all-woman book group were left scratching their heads when they received 'The Damned United' – based on Brian Clough's brief tenure in charge of Leeds United in 1974 – instead of their first choice.

But rather than seeing red the women called in Mark Scadding, vice chairman of the Bridport Youth Football Team.

Annette Shaw, a Bridport based writer and organiser of the event, said they had asked for a Bill Bryson book from the selection of 25 titles on offer.

She said: "However, the box that arrived at Bridport Library for collection contained the Brian Clough story."

"So Mark brought three boys to receive a copy of our designated book and talk about the trip they are planning to play football in Seattle and it was really great to see them join in."

by Paul Crompton
paul@pemedial.co.uk

Booklovers from as far afield as Gillingham, Shaftsbury, Dorchester and Weymouth joined the group at the Watch House

Café at West Bay for the event on April 23rd.

It was part of the nationwide celebration of the reading, recommending and giving of books. Together with the other book group members the ladies gave away more than 100 novels and non-fiction.

Mrs Shaw said: "We were thrilled to see so many people converge on the café armed with bags of books to swap."

"My mum and dad read with me and my sister each night and I still have copies of childhood books by authors such as Enid Blyton, Louisa M. Alcott and Charles Kingsley.

"I'm sure that being surrounded by books from an early age is wholly positive and no doubt helped my career choice."

World Book Night is about encouraging people of all ages to read and develop a lifetime of enjoying literature.

Creating that heavenly hallway for your home

UNLESS your front door opens directly onto your living area or another room you can and should make something of the entrance to your home. A well-presented hallway gives a visitor their first impression, welcomes you home every time you've been out, and can even help to sell a property.

Make an impact

As the one area that people pass through rather than spend time in, the hallway is the perfect place to give visitors a glimpse into your personality. Use the hall as somewhere to set the tone for the rest of your house. Display photographs, paintings, a favourite rug and anything else that represents you and your family.

The hallway also offers an opportunity for colour, particularly as white can often be stark and uninviting. Colour can be introduced via wallpaper, fabric (such as curtains, a rug or table linen on a console), a painting or a plant.

Patterned wallpaper works particularly well in a long, narrow hallway or stairwell as it draws the eye away from the length and creates the illusion of width. Not only will it add drama, but you also won't have to worry about it clashing with sofas.

Pay attention to detail

If possible, try to think of the hallway as a room in its own right. As such, treat it with the same care and attention to detail as you would any other room. If there's space, put a chair or a small table there.

It is also an area prone to wear and tear - keep skirting boards painted and keep your walls clean of mucky hand prints on the walls.

Halls also tend to be rich in wall space. Take advantage of this to display photographs, prints and paintings, or hang a large mirror to give the illusion of space.

Also, think classic. Touches such as an umbrella stand or that 20th century hall accessory, the 'gossip' bench (a seat and table in one, designed with comfortably using the telephone in mind) will help to give your hall a sense of purpose.

Keep it light

Wall-lights work very well in a hallway. Use tall candle-stick stems with your own choice of lampshade (modern or traditional) for a stylish look. Mirrors will also help available light to go further.

If your hallway has a window, and if space allows, make a feature of this by placing a chair or table underneath. Also, instead of net curtains, consider privet hedges or high window boxes to cover the lower half of the window. This will retain privacy without compromising on aesthetics.

Hints for a heavenly hallway:

- Never use your hallway as a dumping ground. This is the first thing you see when you open the door so keep the hall and stairs tidy and free of clutter at all times.

- If this is where you keep coats and bags, invest in some appropriate storage. There are so many storage options for halls and lobbies now that you will definitely find something to suit your needs. Choose from free-standing coat-racks, fixed individual or a rail of hooks, a shoe rack or high level shelving for hats and bags.

- If doors to other rooms lead off from the hallway, think carefully about the colour scheme to ensure that the eye is easily drawn from one space to the next. One way of seamlessly linking rooms is to keep the wall colours similar, while having different floor coverings to divide the rooms. For example, tiles or wooden flooring in the hall and carpet in the adjoining room.

- Whatever the size or shape of your hallway, your prime concern should be to make it as welcoming as possible. Stand in the doorway and imagine you're walking in for the first time. What needs to change? The colour? Lighting? Flooring? Or does it simply need to be de-cluttered?

- Use the space under your stairs wisely. Under-stair cupboards are a useful storage option. Or if there's enough headroom, why not convert the space into a downstairs loo? Apart from the toilet, you only need a small handbasin, a mirror and a towel rail. Ask a plumber for advice and a quote.

Chris Rudge Renewables

RECENT Government announcements have now firmed up the future of Solar PV Feed in Tariff's (FIT). After April 1st the 21p FIT rate will continue till June, you'll need to obtain an EPC certificate declaring your premises are at Energy Band D or better to qualify for the full 21p rate. Rudge Renewables, they are offering their customers a 'Get Your D for Free' offer, providing a EPC survey and certificate at no cost, which will be valid not only for a PV system after April 1st, but any other renewable technology you may want to install later!

Solar panel prices are continuing to fall, and further price drops are anticipated right through the year, making Solar PV very attractive with Return on Investment at 10% or more for southerly facing roofs. Remember though that Feed in Tariffs are due to drop again in July to a lower level, so an early installation will ensure you earn the current FIT rate.

In addition, the Government have announced an extension to the popular Renewable Heat Prepayment scheme which is offering cash payments for people installing Solar Hot Water, Heat Pumps, and Biomass (wood burning) boilers to replace fossil fuels.

Rudge Renewables are able to provide free surveys for Solar PV, Solar Thermal, Wind Turbines, Heat Pumps and Wood chip/pellet installations. With over 5 years of experience installing renew-ables plus an expertise in battery backed systems for customers with no mains power connection. Installation costs are always kept as low as possible for local customers.

Solar PV costs have fallen yet again, so now is the best opportunity to get a system installed before the the FiT is reduced again in July.

From April 1st, all premises need to have an Energy Performance Certificate (EPC) at Band D or better to get the full Feed in Tariff. We will arrange for this certification at no cost to you.

We also install Wind Turbines, Heat Pumps, Solar Hot Water and Wood chip boilers.

Bella Kitchens, Bathrooms & Bedrooms - Priceless Time

THE experience of buying a new kitchen could be compared to that of buying a new car. When considering either purchase we start with a wish list; wow factor, design features, practicality and performance are high on both lists. But all too often, this is where the comparison ends.

Bella assist people every day in their long term choices for the most used room of the home. Sadly our experience is, that whilst clients are happy to add additions and extras to the price of our dream car, they are only too willing to rationalise away their dream kitchen based upon cost.

We find this rationalisation hard to understand. A new car depreciates as soon as it's driven from the showroom; whilst a new kitchen adds desirability and significant value to a property. With annual depreciation a car has on-going and increasing annual cost. In comparison, the addition of energy saving, water efficient and labour saving appliances in a kitchen, not only help keep utility bills down, but return to the investor the priceless commodity of time.

It has been said that "there is always a way to make more money, but one can never make more time." This is why Bella's total in house, project managed service, appeals to busy people who have learned to value their time.

A quality kitchen will remain at the heart of the home, steadfastly at your service each and every day of its lifetime. Under careful maintenance it will return its cost time and time again. A well planned living environment will lend itself to work, relaxation or party mode, catering for every aspect of family life. Pound for pound a long term investment in lifestyle, and with the fabulous range of items available you can add Wow factor too!

In this difficult economic climate, when large spends have to be considered closely, Bella understand all home improvements have to return something of value to the investor. We value every client and endeavour to give our clients the best service and product solution possible within their budget range, so they don't have to rationalise their dream away. Bella's one year installation warranty is backed by an extended after care service, without a 'use by' date on it, so clients are assured peace of mind not only throughout but beyond the initial sale and installation.

Whatever your home improvement project, Bella's experienced skilled team provide a comprehensive range of products and services. Our skilled creative designers can design from plans or offer a no obligation site survey and quotation.

Our project managed installation service ranges from small building works through to the final touch of decoration; relieving clients of the pressure to co-ordinate the required tradesman at the right time. Bella take control of the client's project and manage the installation with their own fitting team, removing the risk of delays and extensions. Bella also take care of product delivery and deal with supply issues, thus ensuring our clients do not have to waste precious time waiting in for deliveries or chasing outstanding goods. Our comprehensive and invaluable service is available to all clients, regardless of budget.

You really are assured of a return on investment and you won't have to rationalise your dream away. Your project price tag will reflect the size of your dream and the value in return of your priceless time.

Turning your house in to a home

THE Fireplace and Stone Centre was established in 1999. We have grown not only in size but also in reputation and have become a premier fireplace and stove retailer who also benefit from the fact we are a family business.

A small but extensive showroom allows you to view many of the fireplaces most of which include a live gas or electric fire. We have fireplaces in stone, marble and wood as well as a wide selection of live wood and multi fuel stoves where you can experience the warmth of a real fire.

With our friendly advice we aim to help you choose the right fireplace or stove, turning your house in to a home. We are pleased to offer a free and no obligation site survey by one of our recommended fully registered installers for further advice.

From traditional to contemporary, gas, electric or solid fuel; why not visit our showroom where you can be assured of a warm welcome."

Change your mind and change your life!

USING Hypnotherapy Susan Gale of the Beltain Centre in Dorchester can help you change your mind and therefore change yourself much more easily because your subconscious will be working with you. She is a very experienced, registered Hypnotherapist. She qualified in 1989 and her years spent listening to people, analysing problems and finding the most effective solution, make her a very practical therapist and one well able to explain even complicated information in simple terms.

She is a firm believer in considering the whole person – the holistic approach – and understands how even the smallest problem can cause great distress and stop you living your life to the full.

Whatever your problem, hypnotherapy can help. It can get to the heart of the matter and deal with any underlying causes. Then the related symptoms, whether psychological or emotional or physical, can be cleared once and for all. Susan can help with a range of issues including anxiety, eating disorders, phobias, stress, smoking, post trauma and post abuse, confidence, anger and much more.

Susan has years of experience and a very down to earth, positive approach. Have a look at her website www.beltain.co.uk or give her a call on 01305 267069 to see what hypnotherapy could do for you.

Boutique café in the heart of Dorchester

THE Loft Café on Antelope Walk in Dorchester has an ethos to provide freshly made food with seasonal ingredients, and locally obtained where possible. All food is made at the café, except for the bread which is sourced from an artisan bakery, and the menu changes daily. This ensures that ingredients are always at their best and that there is minimum waste.

The Loft has a distinctly European feel as customers can enjoy something to eat or a glass of wine at anytime throughout the day. Delicious food, wine and coffee are available at all times, and the ambience is always relaxed and inviting.

Coffee lovers will be thrilled to discover that Illy coffee has been chosen specifically for its freshness and superior taste. The brand is also truly fair to its producers as they buy direct, and also boast some impressive environmental credentials.

This unique concept is the vision of owner Sally Dixon, who has live overseas and travelled extensively throughout Africa and Asia, bringing a wonderful mix of world flavours and traditional coffee shop values to Dorchester. The Loft's Supper Club begins on Tuesday 3rd April with a Nonya themed evening. This will then run on the first Tuesday of each month.

So for a delicious slice of homemade cake and a superb cup of coffee, a light flavoursome lunch with a glass of wine, or a quiet moment with a cup of green tea, The Loft Café is the place to be.

ZZ Tops to play
'Legends Return' gig

BLUES-ROCK tribute trio The ZZ Tops play at The Woodmead Halls in Lyme Regis next Friday, May 12th, as part of the 'Legends Return to Lyme' series

Original from Devon, The ZZ Tops consists of Billy Bigguns (guitar), Dusty Thrills (bass), and Frank Weird-the man with no beard! (drums). The ZZ Tops play red-hot Texas boogie and blues, and no one does it better – or has done it more faithfully – than this 'little ol' band from Devon.' Quoting Billy Gibbons from ZZ Top – "They're the closest I've seen" – praise indeed! The trio's enduring appeal owes much to their mastery of and feel for the ZZ Top form. From the beginning they took a hard-rocking power-trio approach to the blues, cultivating a new audience for the bands earlier work as well as mixing in the MTV classics from the Eighties with superior musicianship as well as attitude, style and some devilishly funny songs.

The genius of The ZZ Tops is that they're reverential about the blues but loose and funny about the subject matter of their songs. Their songs are laden with pop-culture references, sexual double entendres and the determined pursuit of a good time. They sing about fast cars, fishnet stockings, sharp clothes, TV dinners, cheap sunglasses and "tush." They visually connect with their audiences by virtue of Thrill's and Biggun's real beards and spinning fur-lined guitars and have performed at many prestigious events such as "The London Motor Show"/"Music Live" and "Rhodes Rock" festival in Greece where for many, premiere party band on the bill!

Tickets are on sale at the Tourist Information Centre, 01297 442138 and by PayPal via the website www.lymeregis.tv/legends, or in town at Serendip Books, 11, Broad Street, Lyme Regis.

Tickets cost £11.00 in advance or £13.00 on the door.

The O2 in reach for talented local band of brothers, Wise Intentions

BAND of brothers Wise Intentions from Axminster have not only taken the judging panel of the UK's biggest original music competition, Live and Unsigned, by storm, but have also won the Blackstar Exposure Award receiving a Blackstar Guitar Amplifier.

Wise Intentions (Scott, lead vocals, guitar; Grant, vocals, keyboard; and Blake, drums) are excited to have got through to the South West England and Wales Area Finals, having gone through from the Regional Finals held on March 18th at The Coal Exchange in Cardiff.

They play gigs across the South West, playing an exciting range of covers from Green Day, Muse, U2, Pink Floyd, Oasis, Guns 'n' Roses, and more, together with their original songs. They are playing live at The Axminster Inn, on Friday, May 25th from 9.30pm onwards.

The brothers say they "are excited and very grateful to get through to the Area Finals in Reading, and to win this Blackstar Guitar Amp from Live and Unsigned".

Wise Intentions realise they are now just one good performance away from playing at London's O2 in the Grand Final of Live and Unsigned which is part of Live Fest; London's biggest indoor festival. They were voted by judges as one of the best in the Regional Final Showcase in Cardiff. They will be competing against the most talented bands and artists in the country in the South West England and Wales Area Final Showcase on Sunday 27th May in Reading.

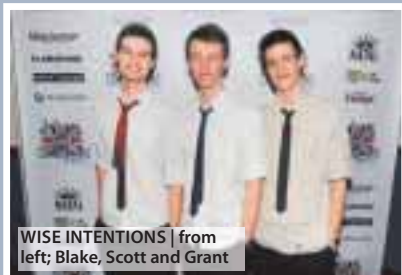

More than 10,000 acts entered nationally and the few still left in the competition are in with a chance of making their way to the Grand Final at London's O2, winning the £10,000 main cash prize and the Live and Unsigned festival tour. There'll also be a £10,000 publicity investment in the winners.

The winning act of Live and Unsigned 2012 will embark on a remarkable festival tour this summer spanning 15 top festivals across the UK. That number is hopefully set to expand over the next couple of weeks, and it will also include an additional international festival with a partner in Sweden, Italy or Latvia. The lucky winner of the Peace & Love slot in Sweden will play alongside Rihanna, Bloc Party, Skrillex, Enter Shikari and many more!

This year's competition also offers acts an extra chance of exposure as it is being filmed for broadcasting on Sky TV in an exclusive fly-on-the-wall documentary, Live and Unsigned: Uncut. All the acts in the competition are battling it out for the chance to play at Live Fest at The O2 in London. The Grand Final is incorporated into London's biggest indoor festival on the 14th July.

Wise Intentions also wish to give a big 'thank you' to all of those who came to support them at Cardiff. They hired a coach from Lyme Regis and supporters made banners, t-shirts and lots of appropriate noise at the Showcase. They also said they "can't wait to do it all over again at the South-West England & Wales Area Final on Sunday, May 27th".

■ For Tickets (£9.00), or more information about the coach (additional £11.00), please phone 07749295438 or email wiseintentions@aol.com or visit www.wiseintentions.com

Keller is class in Grass

WEST Bay's Slader's Yard, better known as an exhibition space, café, and showroom for Petter Southall's mercurial arcs, was for two nights the venue for Simon Rae's short play Grass, which explores the madness of the 19th century Romantic poet, John Clare.

The play was schizophrenically performed by former RSC actor David Keller, who had Clare sparring with, cajoling, and ranting at each of the other characters, all of them played by Keller himself.

The son of a farm labourer, John Clare shot to fame in the 1820's through his powerful poems about the rural environment and its destruction. However, his life was to be defined by a blossoming madness, which resulted in him spending 25 years in institutions.

Clare became convinced he was simultaneously married to both his current wife and his childhood sweetheart, a delusion which provided Rae with the core of his play.

He said: "That was the thing I was interested in exploring - how can you actually imagine you are married to someone you are not? The play is an exploration of his madness through the rationalisation of that situation."

Rae was determined to avoid the pitfall of using, as he puts it, "very good actors in big girls blouses looking anguished" to portray the Romantic poets, so he gave the play a modern setting and rewrote much of Clare's poetry to facilitate this.

The result is something that is entirely timeless. With just a couple of props, a simple lighting trick and a riveting, instantly absorbing performance from Keller, we are transported from scene to scene and character to character in a space that may well exist purely in Clare's deluded mind.

Yet when Clare rails against the commercialization of the countryside – a cause as important to the poet in 1820 as it is to tree-dwelling protestors today – his rage and despair seem more sane than the terrifying aspirations of many industrialists.

The Yeomen of the Guard

May 15th-19th, Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis

Mistress Meryll - spinner of yarns

PHOEBE Meryll, a lively young woman, is fondly admired by all the Yeomen of the Guard and she has fallen for the good looks of the prisoner whom she has seen exercising daily on the Beauchamp Tower. She has been hotly pursued by Wilfred Shadbolt, the Head Jailer and Assistant Tormentor but she has spurned all his advances.

Her father, Sergeant Meryll, desires to release the prisoner whom she fancies because he has twice saved Meryll's life in recent campaigns. So Phoebe is given the task of chatting up Shadbolt and stealing the keys to the cells from him. She winds him around her little finger whilst telling him how she would "rest her loving head upon his breast ~ were she his bride"! Once released from jail, Colonel Fairfax is disguised as Leonard Meryll and is introduced to the ranks as Leonard. (The real Leonard Phoebe's brother, had just arrived to join the Yeomen of the Guard, but is sent back by his father to Windsor to await the reprieve for Fairfax following his appeal.)

Fairfax (who is pretending to be Leonard) is then introduced to Phoebe, his sister. Shadbolt tells Fairfax that he and Phoebe are engaged (to which she replies "or more or less") and he asks Fairfax to take his sister under his wing and to deny her disposition to "indiscriminate caress". The scene evolves into an amusing number until the funeral bell starts to toll for the forthcoming beheading of Colonel Fairfax who turns out, of course, to be on the run!

Phoebe is one of the main characters in "The Merryman and his Maid", possibly better known as "The Yeomen of the Guard" ~ an operetta to be staged at The Marine Theatre from 15th to 19th May by Lyme Regis Operatic Society. Phoebe will be played by Cathryn Brooks ~ opposite her husband, Mike, who will play the part of Shadbolt, the Head Jailer. Phoebe's brother, Leonard, is to be played by Jonathan Hunt.

Keep watching for another instalment of the story in your next edition of "the View from .....". and for details of the Box Office from where you will soon be able to queue for your tickets to see the show.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

FIVE years ago the Yorkshire poet, Simon Armitage collaborated with director, Brian Hill to make a film about soldiers who suffer from shell shock, or post traumatic shock disorder as it is now known. This intensely moving documentary was broadcast by Channel Four in 2007.

There were three main participants, the oldest being 75. This title poem was recited in the film by the three soldiers whose sentiments are summarised in it.

THE NOT DEAD

We are the not dead.
In battle life would not say goodbye to us.
And crack-shot snipers seemed to turn a blind eye to us.
And even though guns and grenades let fly at us we somehow survived.

We are the not dead.
When we were young and fully alive for her, we worshipped Britannia.
We the undersigned put our names on the line for her.
From the day we were born we were loaded and primed for her.
Prepared as we were, though, to lie down and die for her, we somehow survived.

So why did she cheat on us?
Didn't we come running when she most needed us?
When tub-thumping preachers and bullet-brained leaders gave solemn oaths and stirring speeches then fisted the air and pointed eastwards, didn't we turn our backs on our nearest and dearest?

From runways and slipways Britannia cheered us, but returning home refused to meet us, sent out a crowd of back-biting jeerers and mealy-mouth sneerers.
Two-timing, two-faced Britannia deceived us.

We are morbidly ill.
Soldiers with nothing but time to kill, we idle now in everyday clothes and ordinary towns, blowing up, breaking down.
If we dive for cover or wake in a heap.
Britannia, from horseback, now crosses the street or looks right through us.
We seem changed and ghostly to those who knew us.
The country which flew the red white and blue for us now shows her true colours.

We are the not dead.
Neither happy and proud with a bar-code of medals across the heart nor laid in a box and draped in a flag, we wander this no-man's land instead, creatures of different stripe – the awkward, unwanted, unlovable type – haunted with fear and guilt, wounded in spirit and mind.

So what shall we do with the not dead and all of his kind?

Simon Armitage wrote nine poems for the people taking part in the film and they have all been included in a little book entitled The Not Dead, published by Pomona Books. The shortest of the poems is this one, which was one of 75-year-old Cliff's memories of his service in Malaya, when five of the soldiers he fought with were laid to rest.

THE PARTING SHOT

So five graves, like long evening shadows, are dug, and the five coffins wait in line, varnished and squared off, and the firing party aims for the distance and fires, and all are starched and suited and buttoned up.

Then ramrod straight, under the shade of a tree, The boy-bugler raises a golden horn to his lips, and calls to his dead friends with his living breath.
And the tune never wavers or breaks, but now tears roll from his eyes, tears which fall from his face and bloom on his ironed green shirt like two dark wounds.

Then the world swims and drowns in everyone else's eyes too.

Juliet Howland's soul and folk fusion is a hit at Bridport's 115 Club

IT HAS been another wonderful week at 115 Club, Bridport's only dedicated dinner and music venue. Juliet Howland, having just returned from recording her new album in L.A. performed with marvellous intensity. Diners at the 115 Club were fascinated and enthralled by Juliet Howland's unique performance of Soul and Folk, entwined to create a fabulous evening of dinner and music. Classic tracks like 'Halleluiah' were, to put it in the words of one guest "perfection", alongside tracks from her own album, The Promise of Return, performing on guitar and keyboard, with haunting vocals, Juliet wowed the guests, and kept ears pinned back throughout!

If that sounds good, how about May 10th, 115 Club have a superb Jazz trio lined up, Jazz in Mind, Terry Keyworth, Pete Maxfield & Tim Eyles, who between the three of them make up some of the finest jazz musicians in the south west, if not the country! The band have played at festivals up and down the country, and have a knack of making feet tap to the jazz beat, encompassing their style and repertoire which would not be out of place in New Orleans or Chicago! ## SKATALITES AT THE PALACE

The originators of Ska come to Bridport this month

OFFICIALLY formed in 1964, the musicians who made up the original Skatalites had been playing together as a studio band in various combinations since the 50s and now you have the chance to see them live and extraordinary at the Electric Palace, Bridport. Don't miss this unique opportunity to spend the evening surrounded by the sound of the originators of Ska.

Early Studio One recordings were the first 'Skatalites' songs, including "Simmer Down" for Bob Marley (his first #1 Jamaican hit). As a studio force, the band recorded all on one track with the singer on another, 'one-take' recording. These conditions forged a union among the musicians that could result in only one logical conclusion, to form their own band.

In the late 70s, English two-tone revival groups like The Specials, Madness, The Beat, and The Selecter kept the beat alive and well. Then, in the 80s (and ever since), their American counterparts spawned a 'third wave' and beyond; Groups like The Slackers, HepCat, Mighty Mighty Bosstones, No Doubt, David Hillyard and The Rocksteady 7, The Toasters and King Django all pay tribute to The Skatalites as a primary influence. This new generation have collectively opened for and played with The Skatalites, raising awareness and maintaining the fan base for a never-ending wave of ska.

From the start, The Skatalites changed Jamaican music forever. The creation of ska - the father of rocksteady, the grandfather of reggae - gave us eternal rhythms that now infiltrate the globe.

The Skatalites will be appearing at the Electric Palace, Bridport on Tuesday, May 15th. Doors open at 7pm. Tickets are £18.50 and are available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901.

Tons of Money

TONS of Money, Lyme Regis Dramatic Society's latest production at the Marine Theatre, although originally performed in the nineteen twenties, had been more recently arranged by Alan Ayckbourn, and I felt that his influence was apparent as the cast proceeded from comparative sanity into a chaos of their own making. The journey was certainly a very amusing one as, without exception, they wrung every scrap of humour out of what was anyway a very funny script.

Leaders in this were Aubrey and Louise Allington, a middle class couple of the twenties who were living as well as their creditors would allow, ignoring final demands, injunctions and writs and pretending to be oblivious to the gathering financial storm clouds. Chris Knight and Hazel Cawte were cast in the roles, and both fulfilled them admirably.

His spinster aunt and permanent house guest, Miss Belinda Mallett, was played most believably by Anne King. Demanding, suspicious, deaf as a post and never willingly separated from her knitting, she never had a good word to say for anyone and one felt that every establishment of the era probably had one just like her.

Best friend of Louise and, unknown to her, married to a distant family member, was Jean Everard, (Nicky Sweetland). She came across well indeed as a nineteen twenties "flapper" with cultivated vapidity, a lisp and whose rrrs had gone rather "awy". Furthermore she could seemingly only identify her missing husband by the way he kissed; something that the various applicants, of which there were three, took advantage to a greater or lesser degree.

First of the three was Aubrey himself, finding himself in that position as a result of an idea that went horribly wrong. The second, played by Jerry Smith, was "Henery", a chancer introduced by the scheming butler with a view to financial gain, and the third, the real article, played by Mike Whatmore with some righteous indignation and complete mystification as regards the situation in which he found himself.

If the above represented the cast's "quality", these that followed made no less a contribution to the success of the production. They were the staff, and well led by Sprules the butler, played by Jim Pettifer. All subservience and solidity on the outside, he conveyed many of his inner thoughts by excellent facial expressions, and it came as no real surprise when his willingness to take advantage of a situation by flouting the law came to light.

His sidekick, in more ways than one, was parlourmaid Pam Ladd. Clad in the traditional parlourmaid's costume, and wearing headgear that seemed to fall further over her eyes every time I looked at it, she made a great deal of humour out of what was, in essence, a comparatively small part.

Fred Humphrey played Chesterman, the rather effete solicitor with conviction, with much of the plot hinging on his various pronouncements, while Giles the gardener (Richard Stirk), a man of exceedingly few words, demonstrated a commanding stage presence when armed with a pitchfork.

The Allington's creditors, (Jan Bearpark, Karen Hull, Jean Cook, Georgie Harwood, Dunc Weaver and Heather Britchford) had been a latent but threatening presence throughout; but they joined the party, if such it can be called, at the last for a rather spectacular and certainly chaotic finale.

There were no scenery changes for "Tons of Money", with the action taking place entirely in the library. I thought the incidental music evocative; the furnishings were appropriate, as were the costumes and pyrotechnics off stage. Aubrey, too, managed his costume changes on cue.

Make no mistake, this was a funny and most enjoyable production. It was made so by a cast who, I believe, had worked hard to get the most out of what was a funny script. Director Cherine Hill should certainly be pleased with the efforts of her team, and can chalk up another success for the society.

Production: stage manager and assistant - Mike Cawte, Jan Bearpark; properties - Jean Cook, Tony Cook; wardrobe - Hazel Cawte; sound and lighting - Light Touch Design; music - John Griswold; publicity and design - Pam Ladd, Fred Humphrey; box office and front of house - Ken and Margaret Faragher and society members.

BOULEY is a spacious detached bungalow built in the early 1970's. Situated in an elevated position with fine views over Lyme Regis and along the Jurassic Coast.

The three double bedrooms all enjoy these sea views, with the master having patio doors opening onto its own balcony. The lounge has patio doors opening to a paved terrace, again enjoying views to the sea. On the ground floor linked by an internal staircase the property has a separate study/bedroom four and a large integral garage and storage area. This ground floor area offers potential for further accommodation or annex (subject to the necessary consents being obtained). The property has been subject to some ongoing improvements but would benefit from further updating.

Lyme Regis is famed for its many historic connections and character buildings, and of course, for its well known Cobb Harbour. As a resort, it is considered quite unspoilt, but has most of the shops and amenities that one could require, in addition to which there are numerous leisure activities including both sailing and power boat clubs, a cliff top golf course and a bowling club. Locally there are primary schools in Lyme Regis and Uplyme along with the well respected Woodroffe and Colyton Grammar Schools.

For more information please call Fortnam Smith & Banwell Lyme Regis on 01297 445666.

Their labour rate may cost you less,
but you could end up paying for it.

It's time to see through independent garages.

When it comes to servicing and repairing your Mercedes-Benz at an independent garage, can you be sure you're not paying more than you need to?

At Mercedes-Benz of Dorchester's Official Workshop, we'll tell you the price of any work that's needed and how long it'll take before we begin, so you'll know exactly where you stand.

Furthermore, all our Genuine Parts come with a comprehensive two-year guarantee and include the labour cost of fitting them, meaning that when you drive away, you'll feel reassured that if something goes wrong, we'll be on hand to help. That's why it pays to see the experts.

And at the moment, this is especially true. If you present the voucher below when bringing your car in to us, we'll give you £50 off the labour cost for any servicing or repair work we carry out.

To find out more, contact us today on 01305 264 494.

*Average based on customer service feedback from Service Events held at this Mercedes-Benz Official Workshop between 1 January 2010 and 31 December 2010.

Cup triumph for Uplyme : Charmouth still in with a chance

Friday, April 27th
TOMMY TABBERER CUP FINAL
DOWLISH & DONYATT 1 UPLYME 2 AET
(at Lyme Regis FC)

FITTINGLY it was record club goalscorer Gavin Fowler who held his nerve to bury a 102nd minute penalty past experienced Dowlish & 'keeper Jamie Lee to land the 50th anniversary Tommy Tabberer cup for Uplyme.

In front of a crowd numbering almost 200, the first-half of the final at the Davey Fort was a cagey affair of few chances. Uplyme went closest with Lee bravely coming out to deny Adam Neale in a one-on-one opportunity in injury time.

Dowlish went close five minutes after the restart with a volley on the turn from skipper Lee Mears that brought a good save from Lloyd Cleal.

A minute later a Sam Jones cross at the other end reached the unmarked Paul Sampson at the far post but the defender's tame side footed effort was easily cleared.

The deadlock was finally broken in the 64th minute when a Lions free-kick was clinically volleyed home by Neale from 10 yards.

Dowlish responded with a Mears flick header from a corner being hacked off the line by Stuart King.

The Somerset side went up a gear with time drifting away and leveled with a strike that was worthy of any cup final.

Mears pounced on a loose ball to expertly smash home a low left-foot volley that fizzed into the bottom corner from the edge of the area to give Cleal no chance.

Dowlish almost stole the win in the dying embers of normal time when the influential Mears drilled a hopeful volley into the area to 26-goal top-scorer Andy North who reacted superbly to guide a header goalwards. But Cleal was equally alert and reached up to tip the ball onto the crossbar.

A minute into the extra half-hour Fowler finally broke the shackles of defender Tom Evans but his crisp shot was clawed out of the top corner by Lee.

The winner came when Jones, the best player on show, was needlessly upended in the box. Fowler stepped up and guided the spot-kick in the bottom left hand corner sending Lee the wrong way.

Midway through the second period Cleal made two good point-blank stops as the ball pinballed around the Swallows six-yard box.

If Jones was the Uplyme star performer then his equal in the Dowlish line-up was Evans. But it was unfortunate to see the centre-back shown a second yellow card by referee Paul Spurrell in the 118th minute.

Uplyme deservedly saw out the remaining seconds to lift the trophy for the second time in their history

Saturday, April 28th
PREMIER

CREWKERNE TOWN 0 LYME REGIS 3
LYME Regis recovered from their midweek defeat at Ilminster by putting on a display worthy of league champions.

The Seasiders took the lead in the 24th minute when a six-man move ended with Julien Simier rounding Tigers' 'keeper Dale Wood and rolling the ball into the empty net.

The hosts came close to leveling in the 40th minute when goalkeeper Will Meech mistimed a punched clearance and Aaron Cleal was forced to clear a Lee Banks header off the line.

But it was a rare foray forward for Crewkerne and Lyme duly doubled their advantage on the stroke of half-time when Simier linked well with strike partner Joe Bond whose shot was superbly saved by Wood but Simier was on hand to score from the rebound.

The second-half began with a six-man melee right on the Crewkerne goal line but despite a rugby-style rolling maul Lyme couldn't force the ball over the line.

At the other end Meech kept out a low drive from livewire striker Ed Butcher with his feet.

The Seasiders deservedly added a third goal on the hour when Ben Whittington, one of three half-time substitutes, cracked home a shot from the edge of the box into the bottom corner.

Two minutes later a Cleal cross-come-shot dipped onto the top of the crossbar before Wood did well to tip a close range Steve Batey header over the top.

At the conclusion of the match league President Sue Drayton presented the Lyme squad with their championship medals and trophy – a fitting end to management team Robin Townsend and Malcolm Darby's trophy-laden time at the club.

COMBE RESERVES 2 WINSHAM UNITED 1
WITH third place already guaranteed Winsham United shuffled their line-up for the trip to Combe.

Subsequently, regular goalkeeper Chris Scott took the opportunity to get his name on the score sheet. But Scott's strike wasn't enough as Combe edged home 2-1 courtesy of goals from Stuart Bicknell and Matt Cridge.

ILMINSTER RESERVES 1 PERRY STREET 3
PERRY Street secured their premier division status and relegated Merriott Rovers in the process with a 3-1 win at Ilminster Reserves.

Ben Stevens, John Bartlett and Jay Bailey (pen) shared the Street goals with Mike Whitefield on target for the Blues' consolation.

DIVISION ONE
BEAMINSTER RES 3 ILMINSTER COLTS 0
JOSH Hunter's fifth hat-trick of the season fired Beaminster Reserves to a comfortable 3-0 win over already relegated Ilminster Town Colts.

Hunter's promising-looking strike partnership with Matt Tolman produced two first-half goals. Hunter headed home a Dan Pyett corner after the interval to complete the scoring.

Stand-in 'keeper Richie Middleton had the chance to add a fourth but saw his late penalty saved.

DIVISION THREE
COMBE A 2 WAYTOWN HOUNDS 3
WAYTOWN Hounds completed their second successive promotion with a hard fought 3-2 in the promotion decider with rivals Combe A at Slades Cross.

Playing conditions were difficult with a strong wind blowing straight down the slope.

The Hounds were down hill first half and went ahead after 10 minutes, when Matt Read found Tom Rutland who fired into the bottom corner.

The Hounds doubled their lead when a corner from Dan Dunford was held up in the goal mouth and a Garry Goodall shot went in off Leigh Hansford's knee.

The visitors added a third inside the opening half-hour with Read once again the provider for Rutland who slid in to poke the ball home.

The Waytowners were in the words of manager Mark Hughes "on fire" and a rout looked on the cards, but Combe were awarded a contested penalty which Ross Bicknell netted.

The Hounds now had to defend the slope and wind and it was backs to the wall defending.

Keeper Bill Fleet pulled of several first class saves before being beaten by Warren Gabbidon after 81 minutes.

The Hounds Man-of-the-Match award was shared by Fleet and Hansford.

DIVISION FOUR
LYME REGIS BANTAMS 6 COMBE B 1
LYME Regis Bantams moved a step closer to a creditable third-place finish with a 6-1 hammering of Combe B.

League top-scorer Pete Peacock tapped in the opener for his 44th goal of the season. Rhys Evans doubled the lead with a 20-yard free-kick before Simon Rodber pulled one back for the Saints.

But the Seasiders restored their two-goal cushion when Tim Edwards picked out Fred Thomson just before the turnaround.

The goal of the match arrived soon after the restart when Edwards fired into the top corner from the edge of the box following a neat six-pass move.

The lead was extended by Patryk Skibinski who netted twice after coming off the subs bench.

Wiscombe Hill Climb

Wet win for Thorne

WHILST the weather ravaged the south west , drivers at Saturday's first hill climb of the season at Wiscombe Park battled not only with the rain and high winds but also different levels of adhesion from the track following a total re-surface of the course.

The morning practice runs of the Woolbridge Motor Club organised meeting showed that the new tarmac surface was yielding good levels of grip.

But this was not to be maintained as the grip levels were to deteriorate during the morning as competitors dragged debris onto the track as a result of short cutting the first left hand bend at Wis.

This was not to be a problem for Axminster driver Lee Moore who took his Citroen AX from second place at the completion of first timed runs into the premier position in the up to 1400cc division of the Road Going Series Production Car class.

Early leader Matthew Searle, in his turbo diesel Volkswagen Lupo, could not match the speed of the window cleaner and eventually finished over 1.5 seconds in arrears.

The Modified Specialist Production Car class saw Weymouth's Geoff Blake trailing the Ginetta G33 of Graham Beale on the first of the practice runs.

Unfortunately the reigning Wiscombe Young Driver Champion was unable to take the battle to Beale when, with his father Graham at the wheel, the Westfield SEi left the track and smote the crash barriers at Bunny's Leap.

Fortunately Blake senior was un-injured in the incident but the same cannot be said for the car.

Other local drivers to experience problems were Haley Thorne and Colin Pook.

Pook took the first run in the car when the belt to the oil pump broke sidelining the Pilbeam MP43 sports racer and requiring a trip back to Frampton to substitute the Westfield.

Hayley Throne took a fifth in class with the car she has campaigned for the last two seasons . Colin Pook however moved over to share the driving duties with Rod Thorne in the single-seater Pilbeam MP58.

The challenging conditions were far from ideal if you were making your debut in a new car, as was Ottery St Mary driver Ed Hollier in his Pilbeam MP62in the afternoon.

Having posted the fastest time in the first practice session a spin followed but second place was achieved in the afternoon with the win being secured by previous Wiscombe champion and OMS SF1100M pilot Mike Lee.

Reigning Wiscombe Champion Craig Moore battled with Tim Porter for supremacy in the Rally Car Class.

The former, from Lyme

Regis, was the quickest in practice but come the afternoon he had no answer to the Porter's well driven Ford Escort.

Porter went on to claim the class honours with a time of 51.29 seconds, just under seven tenths of a second up on Moore.

The much anticipated battle for the overall victory between Rod Thorne (Pilbeam MP58) and Terry Graves (Gould GR37) took an interesting twist.

Graves left his braking too late and took to the escape road at the Martini hairpin on his first timed run when he was chasing Thorne's time of 44.26 seconds.

On their second visit to the hill it was the MP58 driver who left the course between The Gate and The Esses which left the road clear for Graves.

However, the Launceston driver was unable to match Thorne's earlier pace and was forced to surrender the Channon Trophy to the Dorset driver.

Lyme Regis bowlers mourn Brian Gillett

LYME Regis Bowling club's first week of the season, in an officially declared drought situation, brought three postponements out of four games to rain! writes Paul Moffitt

Our games against Yeovil, The Visually Impaired team and Queen Camel were all cancelled because of waterlogged greens. The only game to go ahead was a comfortable 106-76 home win against Yeovil Westlands.

This coming week heralds the start of the County League season for both the ladies and men. Participants have been taking the opportunity between the showers to brush up on their outdoor techniques, basically speaking to find out how heavy the going is.

It is my sad duty to report the passing of Brian Gillett, a true gentleman who will be sorely missed. He was a permanent member of the Championship side and has proved to be one of the steadiest leads that the Club has had.

I personally will miss him as he has been my front man for the past few years and will be a hard act to follow.

Rain takes its toll on racing calendar

'IT NEVER rains but it pours' is the old saying, and after weeks when courses have needed to be watered to ensure the ground has enough give for racing, the last few days has seen deluges that have turned some courses into a mass of mud.

Punchestown's Spring Festival was one of those affected and with water laying in front of several of the chase fences, officials had to adapt some races for safety reasons.

The weather did not stop the cross country race for the La Touche Cup from taking place although the conditions were extremely heavy over the 4m 1f course.

Bob Buckler's Double Dizzy did complete the course which is more than a third of the 24 runners did, but found it extremely exhausting.

Buckler said: "He jumped brilliantly but didn't quite get the distance in such testing ground. It was a real tester; in fact he choked a bit as did several others, such were the conditions."

Andrew Glassonbury had the 11-year-old prominently placed early on and they were fourth at the halfway mark, but five fences from home he tired in the conditions to finish down the field.

The yard's only other runner was Ethiopia who was the complete outsider in the bet365 Gold Cup Chase at Sandown Park on Saturday, the last day of the season; the new one began on Sunday.

Once again the conditions were totally unsuitable for the nine-year-old who is really a summer

Eight goal thriller finale for Bees

Bridport 4 Street 4

TOOLSTATION PREMIER DIVISION – ATT: 127
BRIDPORT surrendered a four-goal advantage in a pulsating last game of the season at St Mary's Field on Saturday.

Three goals to the good in the first 15 minutes they looked to have put the game to bed when Chris Clarke ran half the length of the field to add a fourth early in the second-half.

However Street, with the elements in their favour, hit back to equalise with six minutes of normal time left, in an absorbing game that saw the home crowd grateful for a point in the end, but wondering why they didn't get all three.

With a strong breeze in their favour, Bees made a blistering start and went ahead on three minutes when Chris Clarke drove a crisp shot into the bottom right corner of the net after a Street defensive header from Dan Wise's in-swinging corner fell at his feet 12 yards from goal.

Even better was to follow a minute later when Tom Richardson produced a magical ball to release Chris Senior. The striker challenged for the ball wide on the right touchline on the halfway line, and hooked a superb pass beyond the last defender.

Senior, timing his run to perfection, collected the ball and beat the advancing Tom Punchard at his near post with a stunning low shot inside his near post.

Street had a great chance to reduce the arrears on eight minutes when Sam Filkins completely mis-kicked a pass back. The ball ran agonisingly across the face of the goal where Phil Ormerod returned it across the empty goal, but just like the Bees' keeper, Craig Herrod mis-cued and the ball dribbled past the post.

An incisive move on 10 minutes saw Wise set Matt Condliffe free down the right. His drilled cross found Senior whose bullet header, destined for the top right hand corner, was brilliantly turned behind by Punchard.

Almost before the crowd had time to draw breath, the Bees had added a third, when on fifteen minutes Ben Clarke collected the ball as it pinged around in the box and turned to fire it into the bottom right corner of the net through a sea of legs.

Street, who have won eight of their last 12 games, were not lying down and they fought their way back into the game, and when Herrod cut in from the left to fire in a vicious angled shot, Filkins had to be at his best to turn it away for a corner.

The game became feisty with referee Mark Whalley allowing a number of niggly fouls to go unpunished, but playing neat, controlled football, Bridport continued to dominate the half.

However it was the visitors who produced the best scoring effort when Leigh Bailey played in Ormerod on the edge of the box, but Alan Hill managed to get across and deflect his shot over the bar.

The second-half started in sensational fashion when Mr Whalley booked Street's Byron Lismore within 40 seconds for clattering Condliffe, in a complete about turn to his first-half laid back style; the rumour being that the attending assessor had criticised his first-half display.

From the free kick Richardson turned inside his defender before firing in a 25-yard pile-driver that Punchard couldn't hold, and it was hacked away.

Ryan Hayter soon followed Lismore in the book for an innocuous foul, as Street with more of a gale at their backs began to dominate territorially.

Ormerod had a shot deflected for a corner, before Bailey hit a low 35 yard shot that beat Filkins but hit the inside of the left hand post and bounced to safety.

However it looked like Bridport had sealed the points on 56 minutes when Chris Clarke scored a superb goal. Intercepting an attempted pass he nodded it passed the last defender before running from the halfway line to round Punchard before passing the ball into an empty net.

Four goals down there looked no way back for the Cobblers. Condliffe was booked for a foul on Lismore when it appeared he had won the ball, before Filkins did well diving full length to cut out Steve Murray's low cross.

It was a needless foul by Russell Legg on Herrod, for which he was booked, on

Townsend joins the Bees' ranks

the right of the penalty area that saw Street get back in the game. Murray picked out Ormerod at the far post with the free-kick and he powerfully headed the ball into the opposite corner.

Manager Trevor Senior almost immediately replaced Legg with Chris Luke, and then introduced Jamie Morgan and Adam Symes for Ben Clarke and Condliffe.

Street pulled a second goal back on 73 minutes when Chris Clarke was booked for handling, after he dived to head the ball clear and it was kicked on to his arm. Murray's 25 yard free-kick thudded against Filkins' right hand post, and Bailey was on hand to nod home the rebound from close in.

Street began to pin the Bees back in their own half but in a rare foray forward Richardson became the fifth Bee booked when frustration got the better of him as he battled for a loose ball on the edge of the visitors penalty area.

At the other end Street skipper Ben Amghar's free-kick was well held by Filkins before the Bees keeper raced from goal to smother the ball to deny Ormerod as he chased a through ball.

Bridport were out of luck at the other end when they finally broke out of their own half. Richardson just beat Punchard to Wise's cross but the ball struck the base of the far upright.

The pressure was mounting on the Bridport goal and Street scored a third on 81 minutes when Ormerod let fly from 30 yards and the ball left Filkins rooted to the spot as it found the top corner.

Three minutes later it was all square. Ormerod charged down Bees skipper Darren Lock's attempted clearance and fired in a shot which brought a superb reflex save from Filkins, but Herrod was on hand to blast the rebound high into the roof of the net.

The visitors went looking for the winner and only a great tackle by Senior on Street's sub, player manager Dan Bradman, prevented them doing so.

Bridport themselves thought they had snatched a winner in added time when Richardson's looping header from Wise's free-kick was heading for the top corner when he was ruled offside.

The season finished on a sour note for Senior who fractured his nose in a collision with Hayter with less than a minute of added time to go and will now need it reset.

Manager Trevor Senior was still stunned when he spoke to VIEW SPORT immediately after the match: "I can't believe it really. We made a good start and are 3-0 up in 15 minutes and looking comfortable; the best score line we've had in a while.

"They weren't as good a side as I thought they were going to be, but I said to the lads at half-time they can't be as bad the second-half as they were the first, but a lot of credit goes to us because I thought we played well in the first half.

"We then went four up, but then perhaps gave away a needless free-kick away for the first one. The second was a bit unlucky with Chris Clarke diving full-length to block the shot and it hit his arm, but when they scored from it to make it 4-2 we just fell apart.

"We were a bit naive and when you are under the cosh you have to dig in, and it was only a matter of time before they scored the others.

"Sam's let four in but to be fair he didn't have a chance with any of them. They had the advantage of the wind which was much stronger in the second-half, and they penned us in a bit, but we have been in worse situations and defended better.

"I asked the lads before last week's game for two positive results and we have got two points, but in both games we led 2-1 and 4-0 and could have had six points."

Young Bridport footballers make their mark

TWO young Bridport footballers are making a name for themselves after an impressive season.

Sir John Colfox pupils Liam Sayers and Rhys Hayter, both 14-years-old, have been playing in Bridport youth sides since they were very young, and are currently members of the under14 side of which Rhys is captain.

Striker Liam has been given the chance to live out many a young footballers' dream, having just signed schoolboy forms with Portsmouth Football Club.

He came to the attention of the Pompey scouts around a year ago as he progressed through the ranks with Dorchester Academy and Dorset County under 14s, which included playing and scoring against Portsmouth.

In February he was invited to train with the club, and after a successful six week trial was offered schoolboy terms which he has accepted.

He will now train and play with the Academy Under 16s squad for the next 18 months when he hopes he will be offered a scholarship on reaching his 16th birthday.

This is a really great achievement for him and an exciting opportunity for him to take steps towards the professional game.

Rhys, a central midfielder, has had an outstanding season with the Dorset u14s and was so impressive that he was asked to play a year above his age group at u15s, where he has played in a variety of roles.

In recognition of his performances he was awarded the player of the year and finished the season as top goalscorer, netting a hat trick along the way.

Andy David, their coach at The Sir John Colfox School said: "They are both exceptionally good footballers, and both very talented.

"Liam has continuously shown that he has an eye for goal, whilst Rhys' ability to play in a variety of positions is a talent not many have."

INSIDE: Bridport & District Darts League

Soggy start to new cricket season

WITH the wettest April on record for over 100 years, Dorset's cricket pitches have taken a pounding and it will be interesting to see how many matches of the new Dorset Funeral Plan Saturday League season, get under way this weekend.

The regionalisation of the lower divisions has seen many of our local sides grouped together, which hopefully will reduce the travelling and also stimulate more interest.

Dorchester, once again under the captaincy of Martyn Richards, will be hoping to improve on their Premier League third place last term.

They have a tough opening fixture when Broadstone, who finished just below them, visit the Rec, but are bolstered by the arrival of coach and player Sean Fitzgerald and the return of Pete Moxom.

season through injury. They have an even bigger task when they entertain runners-up Parley.

Division Two sees four local clubs locking horns. Newly promoted Martinstown host near neighbours Dorchester 2nds at Ashton Farm.

The villagers this year will be captained by Nick Quintrell whilst veteran Steve Budd will lead the county town's second team.

Beaminster have also had a change at the helm with Ross Baker standing down to be replaced by Will Everitt. He starts his reign at Cranborne whilst Michael Pearce's Weymouth 2nds travel to Poole Town 2nds.

There are changes at the Brewery Ground, Bridport where Mark Smith stood down at the end of last season. He has been replaced by all rounder Liam Toohill.

Although they will be without the influential Sam Good who has to work on Saturday's, the combative Dave Herbert who returned from Dorchester last season will be a regular.

They will also be buoyed by new all rounder Ben Briscoe who has joined the club after moving into the area.

Briscoe is a former county cricketer with Cheshire and Cornwall and his fast bowling and batting is sure to give them a lift. They open their Division Three fixtures by hosting last season's Division Four champions Winton 2nds.

Cattistock visit Portland Red Triangle for their opening fixture in the same division.

Division Four is well spread from Pimperne and Sherborne 2nds in the north to Christchurch 2nds in the east, but Puddletown start off with a visit to their nearest rivals Kingston Lacy.

The regionalisation of Division Five brings together four of our local teams, but with only seven sides means Bridport 2nds under the captaincy of Jamie Dolman sit out the first week.

Abbotsbury entertain Somerset rivals Crewkerne in their opener, whilst Dorchester 3rds entertain Bradford Abbas.

The county town youngsters will once again be under the guidance of veteran Pete Tucker, assisted by Jae Miller.

The success of Tucker in bringing young players through the ranks has been a revelation for the town, with several of them now having stepped up to play first and second team cricket.

Another veteran Hugh Rathbone will be hoping to lead Beaminster 2nds to a better season than last in Division Six North and West, although they are without a game this Saturday. However Martinstown 2nds under Tom Bracey will be in action at Gillingham.

Reorganisation of the Sunday League has seen Symene, who finished runners-up in Division Four last season, line-up with most of the sides that they played in Division

Three this campaign, including Charlton Down who they host this Sunday at Symondsburry.

Mid-Wessex League Division One champions Broadwindsor do not open their campaign until the following Sunday (13th) when they travel to Ilchester.
